ARMS ARE PROHIBITED

CHIEF JAMES COLLINS ORDERS OFFICERS TO MAKE ARRESTS.

NO CHANCES TO BE TAKEN WITH DREAD LOCKJAW

GEORGE HARRIS, COLORED, CHARGED WITH DISORDERLY CONDUCT.

Jailer Thomas Evitts Returned From a Fish Outing at the Lakes—Police Business.

Chief James Collins yesterday issued his ultimatum regarding Fourth of July and it was to the effect that the policemen had rigid instructions regarding prevention of the use of firearms or other dangerous explosives, in order to avoid a repetition of last Christmas when many boys and girls died of lockjaw, developing from slight injuries received on their bodies by getting struck with wadding and powder coming from firearms.

The chief ordered the officers to arrest anyone found discharging pistols, either toy or cartridge, shotguns, rifles, or the little cane with iron arrangements at the end for explosion of blank cartridges. These will not be allowed under any circumstances, while if anyone wants to shoot Roman candles or sky rockets they will have to do so out in the residence part of the city, as it will not be tolerated in the crowds thronging the business section. Fire crackers can be exploded anywhere in the city.

Last Christmas about half a dozen deaths occurred among children, every one the result of lockjaw developing from injuries occasioned by little pistols shooting blank cartridges. The children would poke the firearm at another, fire and the wadding from the cartridge strike the other. Deaths resulted where only the skin was slightly torn by the wadding, and the police do not intend to take any chances this year.

Disorderly Conduct.

George Harris, colored, was locked up yesterday by Officers Rogers and Hill on the charge of disorderly conduct. Harris is a man of about 40 years of age, married and with a family. Minnie Younger, colored, aged 12 years, confessed that she and Harris attempted to commit immorality. Being unable to issue a warrant against Harris for rape, the judge charged him with disorderly conduct. The girl lives down on Burnett street.

Insulting Language.

Little Swift, colored, was arrested by Officer Jake Rouse on the charge of using insulting language towards another.

Edna Pudrey, colored, was arrested on the same charge by Officer Hurley.

Charges of Drunk.

Matie McCann, white, was locked up last evening by Driver Henry Seamon of the patrol wagon, on the charge of being drunk and disorderly. Officers Hurley and Singery arrested A. B. Trap on the charge of being drunk.

Disorderly Conduct.

Pete Caldwell and Mann Dobson were warranted yesterday on the charge of disorderly conduct, and Caldwell arrested last evening.

Jailer Returned.

Jailer Thomas Evitts returned yesterday after a several days' outing at the lakes. While he was gone the jail was looked after by Constable A. C. Shelton, the deputy jailer. Joe Purchase, being out with the chain-gang.

PRINTER'S ADOPT NEW SCHEDULE

SCALE OF WAGES PRESENTED TO FIRMS EMPLOYING PRINTERS.

LABOR DAY COMMITTEE WILL REPORT MAYFIELD AND CAIRO OFFERS.

Two Months Now Since Union Carpenters Went Out on Their Strike in This City—Union News.

The union printers of the city have framed up a new schedule of wages and presented it to the proprietors of the different newspaper and job printing establishments for consideration. The old scale under which the types are now being paid, expires August 1 at which time the new one becomes effective.

In the new schedule submitted the wages of foremen are raised from $14 and $16 to $20 per week of 48 hours, which is about 100 per cent over the scale paid ten years ago. Linotype operators and machinists in night offices are raised to $18 and $20 per week respectively and hand printers raised from $14 and $15 to $16 and $18 per week. Overtime heretofore paid for at regular rate plus to cents per hour, is proposed to be charged at time and one-half rate. They also demand time and one-half for working on New Year's day, Labor Day, Decoration Day, Thanksgiving Day, Fourth of July and Christmas. Piece work is raised 25 to 50 per cent. The proposed scale is for two years with a flat increase of $1 per week on every man at the end of the first year. In the agreement with the typographical union they contract to furnish all office with sufficient men, but for a year or so that part of the agreement has not been carried out, although every office in the city is a union office. The proprietors will take the matter under consideration and this month reach a decision.

Labor Day Exercises.

The committee selected by Central Labor body to arrange for the Labor Day exercises, report the propositions made by both Cairo and Mayfield for the Paducah unionists to conduct their Labor Day affair at those outside cities. The two cities both offer handsome inducements for the Paducah laboring man to hold the exercises there, and the arrangements committee will make some recommendation the third Thursday, but state they have not as yet framed up the recommendation.

Carpenters' Strike.

It is two months now since the union carpenters went out on a strike because the contractors employing them refused to sign the new schedule of wages that provided for a slight increase in pay. Both sides seem to be strong in their contention, with no indication of giving in. The contractors claim they are getting all the non-union men they need to carry on the work of constructing buildings, while the unionists state this is untrue, and that the contractors are far behind in their work and have only a few men employed.

Labor Temple.

The Central Labor body has taken up the idea of erecting a building to be known as "The Temple of Labor," it to be a place for holding their meetings, while office rooms will be included. One of the leaders yesterday said they had just taken up the matter but it would be a number of years before the structure was erected. They do not want to commence it for some years, but in order to have money on hand when the idea is actively agitated, they start now to raising the finances. In order to encourage the movement, the Tennessee Electric theater has promised one half of a day's receipts every month to the fund, and it was accepted.

Hold Elections.

The third Thursday night of this month, Central Labor body elects officers to serve during the ensuing term. That night more men will be nominated for the different places. Last Thursday night E. M. Willis, B. M. Mosely and Lonn Crandall were nominated for president; Chas. Horton and B. M. Miles for vice president; J. R. Thompson and Henry Carroll, for financial secretary.

FRONTIERMEN WILL GET BUSY

COMPLAINTS COME FROM MANY PORTIONS OF THE CITY.

Down in the First Ward the Houses Seem to Flourish, Many Being in One Block.

So many dissolute women have settled down in the first ward that the people of that section are preparing to revive "The Frontier Committee" with more vigor than ever and weed out the nuisance. One well known citizen of that vicinity yesterday said that it was becoming awful as houses of ill fame seemed to flourish everywhere and great was the complaint coming from every section. It seems the favorite mode of living is for only about two women to stay at one house and it is very easy to catch them at their devilment. One gentleman said that within one block were three houses occupied by remales of bad reputation and that all were being closely watched but thus far they had been unable to get enough evidence to justify warrants being taken out.

Complaints come from respectable portions of the city regarding the soiled doves settling in the midst and probabilities are that much evidence will be laid before the grand jury when it meets next September.

ARRESTS CAUSE

BIG SENSATION

Lille, France, July 2.—The investigation made by the courts here into the clandestine immigration agencies which have been shipping weavers from neighboring towns of Roubaix to Paterson, N. J., and Lawrence, Mass., thus enabling factories of those cities to compete with Roubaix and other French towns producing similar manufactures, has revealed an elaborate system of recruiting skilled emigrants destined for the American weavers in violation of both the French and American laws. Proceedings have been commenced against six agents at Roubaix and one at Tournai, who were found by the courts to have received substantial premiums. The defendants assert that they are not guilty of engaging any emigrants in violation of the laws, claiming that they have been merely acting as agents for steamship company receiving $5 for each passage sold.

The arrests caused a commotion at Roubaix and Tournai, whence it is reported thousands and workmen have departed for America. Many are returning penniless, having been unable to secure employment.

TRAGEDY DUE TO ### PRETTY WIDOW.

Kennett, Mo., July 2.—News was received here today of a shooting affray Sunday night at the farm house of Robert A. Petty, seven miles south of here, in which Wm. Ford mortally wounded Harrison Balls and then committed suicide with his revolver. Ford was in love with Mrs. Nettie Prince, a widow, who is the sister of Balls. Balls opposed Ford's attentions. Sunday night Ford shot Balls as the latter was sitting at a window of the Petty home. Ford then killed himself.

FOUNDATION LAID.

Defense Will Now Attempt to Develop Mine Owners' Conspiracy.

Boise, Idaho, July 2.—Commencing the seventh day of direct examination of its witnesses this morning the defense in the trial of William D. Haywood bids fair to exceed by several days its promise to close within eight days after the opening speeches.

The foundation laid by the testimony of the former stenographer of the Pinkerton Agency, who, to use his own words, "gave back to the rightful owners" the secrets entrusted to him by his employers, will be used today and on it will be built the structure by which the defense hopes to convince the jury and the public that there has been a widespread conspiracy to wreck the Western Federation and convict its officers of murder. Judge Wood has ruled that the defense may go into this conspiracy only so far as its ramifications extend in the States of Colorado and Idaho. Counsel for the defense, however, state that they can show a conspiracy extending through many states of the union and intended to affect union labor everywhere and they propose to try to get the whole thing before the jury.

Will Be Opposed.

Counsel for the prosecution this morning say that while they made no objection to the introduction of the Pinkerton reports affecting the Colorado situation and even asked for more of the matter introduced, so far has failed to show the Pinkertons were employed or retained by the Mine Owners or the Citizens' Alliance of Colorado. Consequently they say that the foundation not having been laid for the conspiracy which the defense has alleged, they will resist any further introduction of any similar evidence as to conspiracy in any other state.

The defense today will continue the Colorado story in which Orchard told of the proposal to blow up a union boarding house at Globeville, just outside of Denver. In this he incriminated a number of people, including Max Malich, who is expected to be one of the witnesses today. The visit of Orchard to Wallace, where he swore he discussed with Dave Coates, a former Lieutenant Governor of Colorado and at that time a newspaper publisher at Wallace, on the subject of kidnapping one of August Paulson's children, may also be taken up today. Mr. Coates, who has been here for several weeks, has given out several interviews in which he has denied Orchard's story absolutely and promised to develop some new features in the case. He will be closely cross-examined by the state.

To Contradict Orchard.

It is from Wallace that the defense will commence the contradiction of Orchard so far as his story of the murder of Steunenberg is concerned. The effort will be to show that Orchard already having a private grudge against Steunenberg, secured enough money from August Paulsen to enable him to make a "get away" after he killed Steunenberg, but that he bungled his plans.

If the defense can close by the end of this week it is possible that Haywood and Moyer will take the stand on Friday and Saturday, but as the Haywood statement and cross-examination is expected to take up at least a couple of days, the direct testimony or the defense is not expected to close before Monday or Tuesday of next week.

RAISULI AGAIN IN LIMELIGHT

Paris, July 3.—Advices received here from Morocco said that Kaid Gen. Sir Harry MacLean, who was negotiating with Raisuli, the bandit chief, for the latter's pardon by the Sultan, has been made a prisoner by the bandit, who not only announces that he will make his own conditions for his pardon, but demands the payment of a ransom before he will set Gen. MacLean at liberty.

blackboard at him. Instead he can test him by the ergograph, and find whether over-study or too much play is the cause of the disaster. The new instrument is a German invention and is said to have been tried successfully in the London schools. The glowing reports of its success may lead to its adoption for the schools of New York and other American cities.

According to the description the forearm of the child is clamped to the table that holds the apparatus. Then the hand is secured, only the middle finger being left free. This isolated finger is placed in a little steel box, and the pupil flexes the muscles as long as he can, setting wheels and springs at work; with the result that a suspended weight lifts with each effort. There is an indicator at the back of it, whose marks ascend from five to 300. The child that succeeds in pressing the indicator to the highest point invariably turns out to be a bright boy in his class. If Johnny arrives in the morning feeling so fit that he can push the indicator up to 100; and in the evening can get it only half as far, the inference is that Johnny needs less study and more fresh air, or, perhaps, better food and more of it. It is said that the ergograph does not confine its revelations to children. It is equally efficient in dealing with adults. One of its virtues is that it will show whether the subject is lazy or is really incapable of much physical endurance. The two states are often confounded in schools. The teacher has only to ask the ergograph to answer, and it will decide with illuminating impartiality.

The Glorious Fourth.

One hundred thirty-one years ago the Continental Congress proclaimed the document, adopted two days before, as a formal declaration of independence of the thirteen colonies, of Great Britain, which by that declaration and in consequence of a successful ending of a war incident thereto, became thirteen independent nations united into a confederation for protection against outside foes. A little later the confederation was strengthened and the unique nation of nations, currently and incorrectly known as the United States of America, came into existence.

Too much cannot be said in praise of those devoted colonists who taking chances with the gallows dared to sign their names under John Hancock's. We enjoying the freedom, for which they fought and risked, all owe to the debt, the weight of which rarely enters our mind. In fact the significance of our declaration of independence is more clearly understood in Europe than in America. Yet when all is said we are sincerely grateful for the Fourth and the memories it begets, any seeming failure on our part to appreciate the act it commemorates comes from the fact that having liberty we have never suffered from the tyranny that makes it precious to the European.

Every now and then we hear someone saying that nobody should express themselves on a question involving taxation who is not a property owner. They forget that the tenant is at greater cost to live in a community than the property owner because he bears all the expense, taxes, repairs, interest, etc., and then a profit to the landlord. Surely the tenant has as much right to speak on public questions as the landlord. He pays the tax if he votes one.

According to the Nashville Banner, Mr. Roger C. Sullivan, National Democratic Committeeman from Illinois, in answer to the question, "What is a Democrat?" says: "A Democrat is one who asks concerning measures only one question, 'Are they right?'" That is, rather than sweeping an assertion. Many a Democrat doesn't ask anything about measures, but just votes the ticket. And in this respect they are like many Republicans.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Memphis Commercial-Appeal throws seven kinds of fits every time it thinks of the growth of the temperance movement. It now challenges the temperance people of Tennessee to submit prohibition to a vote to the people of the state of Tennessee. We are not the seventh daughter of the seventh daughter, but we predict that if the temperance people of Tennessee take them at their word, the majority in favor of prohibition will be at least 100,000.

Washington refused three terms. Jefferson sought no more than two. Jackson dallied with the third-term proposition and actually named his successor, the most disappointing of all our presidents. Grant led by the most undemocratic politician of the last century, Conklin, actually tried for the third term. In this there appears but little hope for John Temple Graves' desire for another term of Teddy to find fruition.

That wealth cannot buy health is an old aphorism. That but few men with money have brains is a fact proven by observation extending over the entire epoch of human history. Happiness fleeing from the embrace of wealth is the theme of at least 20 per cent of the world's poetry. But we are all willing to experiment with a few millions.

For a city to employ an engineer to plan improvements and direct the work upon them then pay inspectors to see that the work is done in accordance with plans and specifications, and then pay hire for teams and wages for labor, only in the end to give a contractor a profit on the job, is a waste of good money.

The Constitution of the United States may be obsolete; but its makers were thorough students of political history and versed in human nature, which is more than can be said of their latter day critics from Teddy way up to Winston Churchill.

The Japanese government and the American government are very friendly. There is going to be a naval display in the Pacific ocean. Uncle Sam is simply going to have a race of 16 battleships against the Oregon's record.

It is a sad commentary on the condition of affairs in American municipalities that every time an executive of one of our cities actually tries to enforce the law it is telegraphed abroad as a sensational bit of news.

First aid to the injured on the Fourth a July might even go to the length of anticipating the injury by twelve hours and soaking Young America's explosives in a tubful of water over night.

MECHANICSBURG CENTENNIAL.

Mechanicsburg, Pa., July 3.—The elaborate preparations for Mechanicsburg's centennial celebration were completed last evening. The celebration began at sunrise this morning with a salute of 100 guns and the ringing of bells. During the morning there were athletic sports and speech-making, with an industrial parade this afternoon over the principal thoroughfares of the city. Tonight there will be a carnival and band concerts, with a general illumination of the city. The military, civic and firemen's parade will be held tomorrow, the celebration to conclude with a fine display of fireworks.

The most reliable establishments use the best stationery—which is a point for all business men to consider.

HENLEY REGATTA OPENS.

London, July 3.—The annual Henley regatta opened today. No college eight from the opposite side of the water figures this year in the English Aquatic Derby. The only foreign entries, in fact, are one Belgian and one German crew. Nevertheless a lively interest is manifested in the regatta, owing to the fact that for the first time in its history England will fight to recover the famous Grand Challenge Cup instead of to defend it. The Belgian crew are the present holders of the coveted trophy. Although the Diamond Sculls have been won by a Dutchman, an American and a Canadian, the Grand Challenge Cup never left England until last year.

In view of the world-wide attention always given to Henley week it is interesting to recall how insignificant was the beginning of the great Thames festival. Although as early as 1829 the rival university crews of Oxford and Cambridge met on what is now the Henley course, it was not until 1839 that the actual regatta was organized. In that year the inhabitants of Henley formed a committee and decided to offer a silver cup valued at $500 as the "Henley Regatta Grand Challenge Cup," to be rowed for annually by amateur crews in eight-oared boats. The "Town Challenge Cup" and medals for the winners were also offered for crews of four. The first regatta was held on June 14, 1839, and was notable for a great struggle between Oxford and Cambridge for the Grand Challenge Cup, the prize eventually falling to Trinity, of the latter university. This was the humble beginning of what was destined to become the biggest and most fashionable aquatic meeting in the world.

POLICEMEN DODGE

DEATH BY INCHES.

St. Louis, July 1.—Patrolmen McEnneny and Burgoyne of the Fourth District say they will never cease to regard themselves as quite the luckiest policemen in St. Louis, after the narrow escape yesterday afternoon from being crushed under tons of falling bricks, mortar and heavy plumbers' supplies that tumbled from the third and fourth floors of the North Second street plant of the L. M. Rumsey Manufacturing Company.

The Rumsey Company occupies the entire 300 block on North Main and North Second street. Between two rows of buildings and running north and south there is a 50-foot alley. It was into this alley that the rear wall of the building numbered 810 North Second street fell with a crash that was heard for blocks just as the officers were passing and were within a few feet of it.

They were hit by flying bricks and mortar, but after making sure that they were uninjured and that no others were under the wreckage, Patrolman McEnneny telephoned his station. The buildings were immediately roped off to provide against further accident.

The structure was erected in 1868. It is known as the McCune block. It is the main one in the group used as warehouses by the manufacturing company, the offices being on the first floor.

OBJECTS OF DEFENSE.

Will Show Peaceful Campaign on Part of the Miners.

Boise, Idaho, July 3.—The cross-examination of Gen. Eugene Engley, formerly Attorney-General of the State of Colorado under Gov. Waite, will be continued this morning; the state having a few questions to ask the witness when the Haywood trial opens.

The defense continues to center its efforts on the conditions existing in Colorado at the time of the Cripple Creek strike, for the purpose of showing that there was no need for the calling out of the militia, and that the Western Federation of Miners, which up to that time had conducted a peaceful campaign against the mine owners, was made responsible for a number of outrages by military and the "gun men" employed by the mine owners and the Citizens' Alliance.

Gen. Engley has already testified that the Citizens' Alliance was made up of the leading citizens of Cripple Creek and that the mine owners constituted a very small part of the community. He is an avowed Socialist of pronounced type. His evidence so far has been interesting as a frank avowal of interest in the doctrines of socialism and the Western Federation of Miners as an actual sympathizer and because he was employed as counsel in a number of cases for the Federation.

With an adjournment over the 4th it is not considered likely the defense will be able to conclude the evidence before Friday evening. It is now probable that they will not be in a position to call Moyer to the stand before Monday evening. Moyer will be followed by Haywood, who will close the case for the defense.

Boise is preparing for a big celebration of the Fourth of July. A gala occasion of three days, commencing today, has been furnished with a programme providing for many interesting events.

When we undertake to prove what nobody doubts, we are apt to stir up doubt where it never existed before.

A good advertisement—one with the gambling element left out—is the concentrated essence of business brains.

"THIS IS MY 1ST BIRTHDAY" Prince William Frederick.

Prince William Frederick, son of the crown prince of Germany and Emperor William's only grandson, was born July 4, 1906. His name in full is Prince William Frederick Francis Joseph Olaf. Americans have a special interest in this little prince because he was born on the Fourth of July. Besides, his mother, the Crown Princess, is a great admirer of Americans. In a very few years will begin the serious work of training the little prince for the high position he will ultimately be called upon to fill. His education will be a very rigid one. At six years of age he will begin the study of foreign languages, particularly French. He will have daily drills and military exercises and will be thoroughly grounded in horsemanship. At ten years he will be made a lieutenant and will be privileged to walk beside the stalwart grenadiers of the guard. Four years probably will be spent at the military cadet school at Ploen. Almost until he reaches his twenty-first year he will be under the rigid rule of German militarism, subject to the discipline of tutors and governors, like any other young officer of the army.

BABY RUN OVER ESCAPES INJURY.

Pulled Out From Under a Train Without as Much as a Scratch.

Chicago, July 2.—Somewhere in Winnetka, a north shore suburb, there is a baby which has the proud distinction of having been run over by a railroad train and emerging from under the wheels without a scratch.

Just after leaving the station yesterday Engineer Duncan of a north-bound Chicago & Northwestern express train saw a white object lying between the rails in front of the train. At the first glance he supposed it to be a newspaper and paid little attention to it. The next instant he threw on his air brakes with a jerk that sent everyone in the train sprawling.

"Good heavens!" he shouted, turning a white face to his fireman. "It's a baby."

By the time the train had come grinding to a standstill the white object was under the tender. Duncan and his fireman jumped to the ground, and, with a scared group of passengers rapidly gathering around, drew the baby tenderly from under the engine. The baby, which had been lying on its face opened its eyes, stared at its rescuer for a moment and then burst into a healthy wail. The child was absolutely unharmed.

Subsequently efforts to learn the identity of the child or its parents were unavailing. The baby appeared to be about a year and a half old.

"Manners make the man," but when they're overdone they make an insipid sissy of an otherwise decent fellow.

NEGROES LOOSE IN BERLIN.

Berlin, July 3.—At the Colonial exhibition now in progress in this city a great attraction is the negro village, the inhabitants of which hail from German possessions in the Dark Continent. They are somewhat uncertain and untamed, and therefore kept under sharp control. Their curiosity to see the city after dark, however, is quite as pronounced as with many of their white brethren. Benignly mastered by this curiosity eighteen of the stalwart negroes, in scant draperies, broke out of the exhibition the other night and proceeded to have a good time. Black men are not familiar sights on the streets of Berlin, and their unexpected appearance singly and in groups at odd corners was terrifying to nervous persons whom they met. All night long the police were engaged in hunting down the inquisitive negroes, the last of whom, completely intoxicated, was found haranguing his police captors on the pleasures of freedom.

Just when you feel secure and safe, your competitor may be laying his pipes to keep you awake nights.

Muslin Underwear

Our Mid-Summer CLEAN-UP SALE of MUSLIN UNDERWEAR will begin

Monday, July 1st.

AND CONTINUE ONE WEEK

The ready-made goods offered in this sale are much less in price than the raw material of which they are made

Part of this line was left over from a former drummers sample sale and part of it is goods that we are closing out.

Not a single garment in the lot is priced more than the wholesale figures—some at less, and when it is considered that these prices are based on those of a year ago you will readily see what a really attractive proposition we are making

Material of every class and character has advanced, as much in some instances as one-half, and in view of this fact we fail to see how even the manufacturer could possibly make these garments at the prices at which we offer them.

We mention here only a few of the remarkably low prices that will prevail during this sale:

GOWNS 44c, 45c, 48c, 50c, 54c, 58c, 62c, 66c, 75c, 79c, 92c, $1.10, $1.12, $1.25, $1.50.

JAPANESE NOT SO INDIGNANT.

Tokio, July 3.—The expected outbreak of indignation in view of the latest development in the anti-Japanese movement in San Francisco has not yet appeared on the surface. The press is remarkably silent so far. In the course of conversation with men in high circles who are well informed on the present situation, they express themselves as being apprehensive that the unrestrained sway of indignation over the discrimination against Japanese in America might fall into the hands of a third power which is always aiming to arrest Japan's progress while advocating firm measures to remove the cause of grievances of compatriots victimized in the anti-Japanese movement. Prudent handling of the situation is recommended lest Japan be placed in the position of picking chestnuts out of the fire for a third party. Who this third power is may not be difficult to guess, but in the course of conversation on the question the name is carefully avoided.

No Discrimination.

San Francisco, July 3.—The Japanese Association of America has issued the following statement: "Five of the principal Chambers of Commerce in Japan recently addressed a communication to Chambers of Commerce in America setting forth the grievances of Japanese residents in San Francisco and including among such grievances the denial of the right of education. "The Japanese Association of America, which has its headquarters in San Francisco, believes that in justice to the people of California and the whole country this erroneous statement should be corrected and the false impressions removed. Japanese children in San Francisco are not now denied the right of education. On the other hand there are as many Japanese scholars in the public schools as there were before the earthquake and fire of April 18, 1906, and they are receiving the same treatment and the same advantages that are given to the pupils of other nationalities and are admitted to the same schools. "In making this correction the Japanese Association of America wishes to show its desire for fairness and it hopes that its efforts to bring about friendly relations between the Japanese and the people of San Francisco and the state of California will have the sympathy and support of the merchants and business men of the state."

Several hundred delegates are in attendance from Minnesota, Arkansas, North Carolina, Connecticut, Indiana, New York, Alabama, Ohio, South Dakota, Michigan, Kansas, Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri, Nebraska, Massachusetts and Iowa. The president of the association is George W. Vezitz of Colorado Springs. In honor of the visitors the management of the Jamestown exposition has designated tomorrow as "National Association of Deaf Day" at the fair.

FLAUNTS RED FLAG IN THE LAW'S FACE.

Cleveland, O., July 3.—Deputy United States Marshals continued their search for John D. Rockefeller here today for the purpose of serving him with a subpoena to appear in Chicago next Saturday. Marshal Chandler said he still felt confident that Mr. Rockefeller was in or near Cleveland and that service on him would be obtained before many hours.

No Credence in Report.

Chandler said he placed no credence in a report published this morning to the effect that Rockefeller had left Forest Hill in an automobile last night, slipping by a Deputy Marshal who was on guard all night around the residence of the oil man. The search for Mr. Rockefeller today was on a more systematic basis than anything attempted heretofore. With an increased number of deputies at his command, Marshal Chandler had the grounds at Forest Hill thoroughly gone over by his men. Deputy Marshals also called at the homes of a number of Rockefeller's friends where it was thought he possibly might take refuge.

Wife Taken Ill.

More than twenty deputies, each with a subpoena, are now searching for Mr. Rockefeller in this city or its suburbs. As a result of the excitement incident to the Rockefeller residence being placed under guard, it is said that Mrs. Rockefeller has become seriously ill. She is suffering from nervousness and is attended by a trained nurse.

Rockefeller Not at Tarrytown.

New York, July 3.—The whereabouts of John D. Rockefeller were still unknown today to U. S. Marshal Henkel and his deputies, who are trying to serve a subpoena on him to attend court in Chicago July 6. Six process servers were on guard last night and today around Mr. Rockefeller's estate near Tarrytown, N. Y., but their vigil was unrewarded. Entrance to the estate was permitted only after identification by men employed about the farm. At the office of the Standard Oil company nothing could be learned either as to Mr. Rockefeller's whereabouts or as to whether he intends to give the United States Deputy Marshals who are searching for him in three states an opportunity to serve their summons.

Has Is Not at Son-in-Law's Home.

Pittsfield, Mass., July 3.—U. S. Deputy Marshals who went to the home of E. Parmelee Prentice, the son-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, today, presumably to serve a subpoena on the oil man in connection with pending Federal action in Chicago, did not succeed. Mr. Prentice met the deputies, and when he learned who the visitors were informed them that Mr. Rockefeller was not there. The deputies retired and shortly afterward left the city.

The only thing easier than finding mistakes others have made is to make mistakes yourself.

INTEREST IN BURNS. SQUIRES BOUT.

San Francisco, July 3.—Of great general interest will be today's battle between Tommy Burns and Bill Squires, the much-touted Australian. It will give American ring followers their first opportunity to size up the Australian, of whose terrific hitting ability, gameness and cleverness much has been heard. If Squires is anywhere as good as has been claimed the fight should be one well worth going far to see. Burns has established his reputation as a sturdy, enduring and aggressive fighter and can be counted on to make things interesting for the Australian. Since the latter's arrival in this country he has gained steadily in the estimation of the ring experts and is held especially high by those who have had an opportunity to see him train. The interest in the battle is indicated by the fact that at least $25,000 has already been wagered on the result.

A good man is one who turns out to be what his wife thought he was before she married him.

DIVIDED ON REHKOPF BILLS

REFEREE BAGBY WILL MAKE DECLARATION FOR CREDITORS JULY 15.

ATTORNEYS WANT BIG FEE FOR LEGAL SERVICES

PADUCAH BREWERY SUES J. D. OVERSTREET AND WIFE ON A NOTE.

Elijah Rice Filed Suit for Divorce From His Wife, Ethel Rice—Deeds Were Recorded.

Partes holding unprotested claims against E. Rehkopf in the bankruptcy court, will get the benefit of a ten per cent dividend to be declared July 15 by Referee Bagby, unless some valid objection is entered to show cause why the dividend should not be declared. The referee yesterday gave notice that he would declare the dividend on the date mentioned, unless something was shown as to why it should not be done. This is the first declaration made for the creditors thus far and will amount to some thousands of dollars.

Attorneys Crice and Ross, and Campbell and Campbell, filed a petition before the referee yesterday asking for a fee of $3,500 for defending the suit instituted to throw E. Rehkopf into bankruptcy.

The second payment of $16,000 was collected yesterday by Trustee Boyd in the bankrupt estate. The tan yard, storehouses and other properties of Rehkopf sold for $48,000, to be paid for in three equal installments, the second and third payments being secured by bonds.

The referee yesterday confirmed the trustee's report showing that George L. Allison had paid into the trustee's hands the $20,044 he bid for the residence formerly owned by Rehkopf, on South Fifth between Kentucky avenue and Washington street.

Sued to Foreclose.

The Paducah Brewery yesterday filed suit in the circuit court against John D. Overstreet and his wife, Tillie Overstreet, for $380 claimed due upon a note the defendants executed to the brewery April 17, 1907, payable in sixty days. The brewery asks for foreclosure of a mortgage held on defendants' goods.

Wants a Divorce.

Elijah Rice sued Ethel Rice for a divorce. They married in this city during 1902, and he claims she left him in July, 1906.

County Clerk's Office.

Property on Mill street has been sold by John Sayre to Johanna Sayre for $600, and the deed filed. W. S. Duncan sold to Susan Derington for $600, land in the county. L. P. Jones bought from C. O'Bryan for $60, property in the O'Bryan addition. Minnie Guthrie transferred to James W. Eaker for $2,600, property at Fourteenth and Harrison streets. L. P. Jones sold to V. G. Garner for $1 property in the O'Bryan addition. A marriage license was issued to William B. Waters and Kathleen Eselborn.

GREAT IRRIGATION WORK.

Carlsbad, N. M., July 3.—During the next three days this place is to be the scene of a unique celebration to commemorate the beginning of government irrigation in New Mexico. The importance of the occasion to the people of New Mexico, and also to the residents of other large areas throughout the west and southwest, can only be appreciated when it is borne in mind that great tracts of land now of an arid or semi-arid character will soon be made to "blossom as the rose" through the medium of irrigation. The projects already under way will when completed add millions to the wealth and resources of the territory.

That New Mexico is fully alive to the significance of the work is evidenced by the fact that the celebration about to begin was authorized by the legislature, and the expenses will be borne by the territorial treasury. Persons of prominence from all parts of the territory are to take part in the celebration, together with representatives from the Department of the Interior and officials of the reclamation service from Washington.

The Carlsbad reclamation project was primarily undertaken by the government at the urgent request of the settlers to save their property and homes which were threatened with destruction by drought, as the result of a flood which washed away a portion of the Alavon dam, on which their canal system depended for its supply.

Acting upon the advice of eminent consulting engineers a core wall of re-inforced concrete was built from bed rock to the crest of the dam. There is no longer any possibility of the structure being washed away by a flood. On the lower side of the dam is a rock fill which would prevent erosion in case flood water should sweep over the dam. The re-inforced concrete conduit which was constructed across the Pecos river by the former owners of the system has been strengthened and the foundations carried to bed rock.

Across Dark canyon is a siphon, circular in form, and of sufficient size for a six-foot man to walk through standing upright. The canal has been widened and deepened and built on scientific principles, so as to carry the greatest amount of water with the least excavation. This work when completed will cost more than $600,000 and will supply 25,000 acres with water.

Over in the Mesilla Valley there is nearing completion a 600-foot diversion dam for the purpose of supplying water to one unit of the Rio Grande project, the Leasburg diversion. The headworks will be connected with the old Las Cruces system by a canal six miles long. Before this project is finished a gigantic dam will be constructed across the Rio Grande near Eagle, forming a lake forty miles long and storing water for the irrigation of 180,000 acres of land lying in New Mexico, Texas and Old Mexico. Still another great work is the Rio Hondo project, near the city of Roswell, which has been completed at a cost of about $350,000, and which this season supplied water for the irrigation of 12,000 acres of fertile land.

NO TEACHER'S PROFESSION.

(By Ossian H. Lang, in the July Forum.) "There is in the United States no teachers' profession." Here is probably the sorest spot in our educational organization. There is too much dilettante teaching, too much dilettante principalship, too much dilettante superintending. Good intentions there are in plenty, but these are of no more practical value to the children than are the good intentions of a physician toward his patients. Of what comfort is it to the weeping parents to know that the physician loved their child, and would have saved him if he could, but that he did not know how! They would sooner have pardoned a lesser amount of sympathy, if there had been, a better trained judgment. In matters concerning education the people are not yet capable of distinguishing between sure-handed expertise and bungling dilettanteism, though they are learning, slowly and by costly experience, that there is a difference. Many communities have already discovered that the superintendent, at least, should be a trained specialist. However, there are still to be found too many of the "hurray, boys!!" type of superintendent, expert in the art of endeavoring themselves to School Boards, principals and teachers, but expert in nothing else. They address every man most cordially as "Brother" or "Son," and the women as "Sister," or "My Girls." Their visits to the classrooms are brightened by funny stories, and the pages of their reports are illumined by expressions of gratitude to everybody in town for having helped make the local schools the glory of the state, and for having brought them to their present high grade of efficiency. But one by one these jolly good fellows are being replaced by those whose chief purpose is to serve the schools, and who know how to conduct them in the light of the best thought and according to the most approved experience. The expert is more and more in demand.

Give the other fellow credit for thinking as fast as you talk, even if he does keep his mouth shut and look interested.

Shortly after his death notification was received that he had been allowed an invalid pension of $14 a month by the Department of the Interior Bureau of Pensions at Washington on the recommendation of Congressman L. ## Fashion And Her fads

(By Florence Fairbanks.)

New York, July 3.—Blue nationale is a new bright blue which threatens to rival in popularity the much exploited Copenhagen.

Green, navy and red tussore are made up with the deep blue, secure filet, guipure or craponne laces.

To wire the lower part of a lace kimono sleeve, to keep it out from the arm, is a new idea.

The popular gloves of the moment are in an ivory shade, dark champagne or tones of gray.

Black taffeta dresses with mouseline de soie sleeves set in wide arm holes are the latest whims of a Parisian.

Bows of ribbon wired on the edges are tied through the hair. This new fad is very becoming and girlish.

Lace in very pale colors such as blue or pink, is much used in matching gowns of mouseline, marquisette or voile.

Braiding is found on everything, and on every material. On wraps, belts, purses and hats it is very attractive.

Roman striped silk is draped on Panama hats which roll up slightly in front. The ends of the scarf are fringed and hang over the hair in the back.

In placing tassels on a wrap or bodice, they should be hung on the most prominent points, and where they will show to the best advantage. The entire effect is lost when they are used indiscriminately.

A simple wash dress for a young girl is finished at the neck or gümpe, belt and the head of the ruffles, with wide beading run with black velvet or black wash ribbon.

Large diaphanous veils of net with large round circles are very attractive this summer. Those in blue, sulphur or mouse-gray are pretty, but these black and white ones are beautiful.

All materials displaying stripes and checks and Pompadour designs are by far more fashionable than plain goods. Japanese tussore in silks are extremely popular and pretty.

Sleeves are growing longer, it will be noticed, as the season advances. Elbow sleeves on shirt waists continue to be in style, but the tailored waists that button in front is returning again into favor.

Very pretty shirt waists of pale colored batiste are trimmed in front with heavy embroidery over a lace gümpe. Pale yellow is a favorite color and for brightening smoke, a sulphur yellow is often used.

White stockings are said to be the latest decree of fashion. They are worn with any costume and shoe, and not with white only, as has been the fashion up to now.

Green jade is taking a very popular part in jewelry this summer. It is found in sleeve buttons, belt buckles, studs and all other kinds of jewelry. Jade hearts worn on a neck are very pretty.

Tussore of a thick texture and wolle nion is a late novel combination. The Tussore being used as the trimming in shaped bands. A dress of this syle should be of one color except the quipure or lace which does not necessarily have to match.

Mushroom hats are worn by little girls as well as ladies, as the droop is very becoming to their childish faces. They are seen mostly in browns and blues, trimmed with a wreath of daisies, field flowers, or Oriental poppies.

The light weight cloths for summer tailor costumes are shown in all the shades of gray from smoke or gun metal to almost white, also in tan, where the tints range from champagne, sulphur, chiffon, pitty, maize, fawn, leather until the decided wood brown is reached.

The correct cravat for the gentleman, is a four-in-hand. These are pretty in two shades of one color, the lighter tone being in stripes or circles. For morning and common wear, the cravat bow in striped silk is much worn.

The smartest belts of the season are distinguished by their narrow width. These are mostly worn in suede or tan leather. Wide elastic belts decorated with steel nail-heads, put on a pattern, are the latest in this fashion. The Empire belt is extremely chic, which has the upward curve in the back.

A fad for young girls who attend fashionable gatherings, is to wear a patch of black striking plaster in the chin or cheek. But these patches have not yet taken the form of stars or seden chairs as in the old days.

The very latest way for children to have their hair dressed, is in the Romney Style. The ribbon is placed around the head and tied in a big soft bow on the left side. The Dutch style is a practical and becoming method for every day. The Dorothy fashion is the prettiest arrangement for the little girls who have natural curly hair.

Ruffs and bias are accessories of the summer toilettes. Very full and fluffy ones are made of malines, point d'esprit, chigon mouseline de soie, any variety of net, and the accordion plaited materials. Chenille dots on the edge are a great addition. They are also charming when made in two colors, with long ends to tie in front.

MOORNING IN JAPAN.

Is Done in Private and Not Performed Before the Eyes of the Public.

In Japan people who have suffered a bereavement not only do not put on mourning, but after the blow has fallen they make their next appearance with a smile upon their faces, as if nothing had happened. According to Lafcadio Hearn, this is not in the smallest sense an evidence of indifference. The Japanese, he declares, suffer as keenly from a bereavement as any other people. The purpose of the practice is wholly to spare the feelings of other people. To betray feelings of sorrow is to afflict those about us. The mien or garb of grief afflicts, therefore it is impossible for a courteous person to wear it. So reason the Japanese. In order that no thought of pain shall pass from the sufferer to his neighbor, the sufferer wears the aspect of contentment, even though his heart is breaking.

Our own practice is quite the reverse. It considers the sufferer, not his friends. In order that not only may all know that he is in sorrow, but that some drop of that sorrow may pass from him to those about him, the bereaved person wears black. The direct purpose of wearing mourning is not, we may be assured, to make an ostentation of grief, as some opponents of the practice have thoughtlessly assumed. It is rather to spare the bereaved from the chance remarks of those who are ignorant of his affliction. It is worn that they may know, and avoid questions or blundering observations that may wound him. But even in this worthy and, we believe, truer view of the purpose of mourning emblems, the person whose comfort is considered is the sufferer. The many are called upon to share in his woe to some extent. The emblem is the token of their compassion, not the embezzlement of his grief.

THE PANAMA SITUATION.

Freedom from Ordinary Limitations of the American Government.

For the third, and let us hope, for the last time, a study of the Panama situation has begun. The conditions confronting the United States government differ radically, however, from those which confronted the French companies, or that would confront any private company that can be organized. For the outlay made by the American government actual property or a full equivalent in work has been obtained, and no unnecessary capital of wasted money weighs down the enterprise. By the cession to the American government by the new Republic of Panama of a strip of territory ten miles wide from ocean to ocean, in perpetuity, all question of a concession life is permanently removed; and, finally, inasmuch as the American government will not have to consider a canal from the point of view of returning a large profit on an investment, and as it can obtain the necessary funds at an interest charge certainly one-half of what would have to be paid by a private organization, it is obvious that plans can be considered that will involve a much larger capital investment, and that will require more time for completion. In short, the American government is free from ordinary limitations. Therefore the question before the government and its advisers is: What is the best type of canal to construct, and how should it be constructed?

HAD NO PREJUDICE.

Talesman Shows Very Clearly His Lack of Feeling Against Indians.

In a northern California town a supposed murder has been committed, relates Lippincott's Magazine.

The half-breed wife of an Indian had died, as the husband said, from natural causes, and was buried without the usual formalities being first complied with. After a lapse of two weeks the body was disinterred by the authorities, at the instance of a particular enemy of the accused, and marks of violence, as the informer stated, were found upon the deceased.

The prosecuting attorney was examining the talesman to ascertain if any of them were prejudiced against Indians.

Talesman Taylor was upon the stand undergoing a rather stiff cross-examination.

"Did an Indian do you or your family any harm at any time?" asked the prosecutor.

"No," replied Taylor.

"Did you or any of your family ever have dealings or trouble with an Indian?"

"No," replied Taylor, "except that my wife's mother was killed by an Indian."

Good Advice.
Magistrate—So you want to get a separation from your wife? What's the matter with her?

Applicant—She behaves most brutally toward me. She treats me like a dog and works me like a horse.

"I'm afraid, my good man, I can do nothing for you. You'd better go to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals."—Jugend.

Not Pretty Then.
"Hateful thing, she is!" exclaimed Miss Pretty, angrily. "I'm glad I'm not as mean as she is. I'm as much above her as—"

"Tut! tut!" interrupted her fiancé, "remember that rosebud mouth of yours ceases to be a rosebud when it begins to blow."—Philadelphia Ledger.

PHONOGRAPHIC TRICKS.

Interesting Tricks That Are Performed with a Talking Machine.

Some interesting and amusing "stunts" that may be performed with a talking machine, graphophone or phonograph are described. In addition to the machine itself, says the Scientific American. The author notes, a recorder and a few blank records will be needed. The first trick, which he names the "Speech by Tom Thumb," is thus performed:

"The machine must be speeded up as high as possible, and an announcement recorded on a blank in a deep, loud voice. The machine should be quickly slowed down to eighty revolutions per minute, and the speech or monologue recorded at that speed, care being taken to articulate distinctly. When the blank is full and reproducer may be substituted for the recorder, and the machine be brought up again to high speed at which the announcement was made. When the record is reproduced at this speed the result will be the loud voice of the announcement, followed by a rapid, pitched-up little voice making the speech."

The second trick described is the reproduction of a whistling duet, in which both parts are performed by the same person. This is effected as follows:

"Put on a blank, and after the speed is at about 160 revolutions whistle some popular piece of which you know the second part. When the record is full set the recorder back to the beginning again without stopping the machine. When the recording points gets to the commencement of the piece the first part will sound faintly in the recorder, thus giving the cue and the pitch for the second, which should be recorded not quite so loudly as the first."

"Several modifications of this experiment will suggest themselves. The first may not be perfectly successful, but that need not be considered a drawback, as a spoiled record can be easily cleaned with a rag and a little kerosene. The rubbing should be lengthwise of the cylinder till the lines are all removed, after which a soft cloth is wrapped around the record to give a polish. Hard or gold-molded records may also be cleaned in this way, which fact suggests another amusing trick."

"This will call for two records, preferably talking selections, which are exact duplicates. One of these is 'doctored' by cleaning off the latter half, the rest being protected by a piece of writing paper wrapped around and secured by an elastic band. On this blank space various remarks should be recorded, which should be very different from those originally there. The good record is to be played through first. While saying that you will repeat it the second one is quickly substituted in the machine, and, of course, starts off exactly like the first one. When the 'doctored' portion is reached, however, a change will be noticed, but cannot be accounted for by the hearers."

"By taking two records of entirely different character, cutting each in two, and putting on a half of one and a half of the other, we can often jump from the sublime to the ridiculous by quickly flipping the reproducer across the gap from one to the other. With care the thinner half one of these records may be slipped halfway on, in a reversed position, and when made to run true will produce everything backward. A curious thing about such records is that the voice one hears in the proper direction is instantly recognized when reversed, but is, of course, unintelligible."

Truth About Moonshiners.
Novelists who have written about moonshiners have cast about them a glamor that is not real. We are led to infer from works of fiction, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, that the moonshiner makes whiskey and refuses to pay tax on it purely on principle. He does it to show that he has a free and untrammelled soul, according to the writers. And he is always possessed of a pretty daughter. As a matter of fact, the moonshiner makes whiskey and avoids the tax for revenue only and his daughter is a "fright." The whiskey, too, is atrocious. The oleomargarine-maker is a nicer person than the moonshiner; he is not so averse to water that he never takes a bath and he does not regard murder as a pastime. So we would commend him to our writers of romance as a worthier subject than his mountaineer prototype. He is more accessible and safer and in time can be made a picturesque figure.

Smokeless Pipes.
It would scarcely appear that a factory could build up a profitable trade in pipes which could not be smoked under any circumstances through the fact that the stems were made solid instead of hollow, but there is a factory in England which makes thousands of gross yearly. They are sold to the shooting galleries, where a pipe has always been found one of the choicest and at the same time most satisfactory amusements. One showed that he could make the pipe smoke simply by not placing the stem, and practically coughing the smoke all by himself.

The Ways of Men.
Few doctors are willing to take their own medicine; when a lawyer gets into trouble he hastens to hire an attorney, and it is hard for people to admire an artist who paints his own portrait.—Chicago Record

NO SALOONS AT COLUMBIA AND BUSINESS INCREASES.

Columbia, Tenn., July 3.—The merchants of Columbia have been comparing the business of the past six months with that of the corresponding period of last year, and few, indeed of the number fail to show a nice increase, some as high as 20 per cent. It was predicted that when the saloons went out the merchants would feel the effect in a decreased business, but it has been just the other way. They have had, as a rule, a much larger cash trade, while their credit customers have paid more promptly and doubtful accounts are small.

KANSAS WHEAT BELT

REGION IN WHICH ARE MANY HOMES OF CULTURE.

The Only Real Work of the Year Is During the Harvest Season—Farmers Generally Are Students.

There are homes on the wheat ranches where culture reigns. Books, pictures, music, pianos and newspapers keep the inhabitants in touch with the best things of life, says the Kansas-City Star. The onerous toll of the wheat harvest is mostly imaginary. The only real work of the year is during the week of harvest. Turning the soil with a riding plow is not hard, as farm work goes. Planting the wheat with a drill is easy. Waiting for it to grow is not such degrading labor. Men who raise three crops of alfalfa a year work harder all summer than do the wheat harvesters. The harvest hands are softened, weakened products of overeating city life, and that is why the work seems hard. The harvest season is a godsend to these men. The outlet to the country for a season of "resting" soothes the nerves of a fermenting element; the city breeds and harbors.

The farmers of the wheat belt, on the whole, seem to be about the happiest agriculturists to be found. The rapid growth of the western counties into the gigantic wheat-producing section that it now is has offered ample opportunity for all the farmers of managing ability to build up moderate fortunes and acquire large tracts of land. These they have adorned with splendid homes, orchards and shade trees, and have stocked with fine cattle and good breeds of all domestic stock. The wheat belt is also "the greatest grass land on the earth." That is, native grass grows there in profusion, and it makes the best grazing of any grass crop. All these things have enabled the progressive farmers to surround themselves with everything that goes to make rural life delightful.

These wide-awake farmers are students of everything that comes into their lives. At a glance they can tell which of two steers will gain a pound the quicker and on a given ration, and this same faculty makes them judges of human character as well. They know what kind of men they are dealing with and treat them accordingly. Many a man who came to the harvest like a tramp, a man used to a cultured home, but fallen from grace and "down on his luck," has been singled out by the farmer or his wife as one fit for better things. Such a man is treated as one of the family. His story is learned if he wishes to tell it. When the harvest is over he is given steady work. The bond that gives people together of an equal plane of thought becomes established.

Cases of this kind can be related in every household in the wheat belt. Said one farmer's wife—she traced her ancestry to Ethan Allen and other historic names of colonial days and was herself a college graduate: "One of the most interesting things of the men. Last year a young man worked for us who, we readily saw, was of good breeding and came from a respectable home. His hand got sore in the harvest and I dressed it and doctored him the best I could. It got worse, and one day I asked him what was the matter with it. He said: 'The blood does not circulate in it.' Then he rolled up his sleeve and showed a scar that was frightful. He had been in some scrape and had received a bad cut, which had been sewed up by a surgeon. His hand got well and he worked for us nearly a year. One time he was sick for several weeks and I said to him: 'John, why don't you write to your folks? I know that you have a home and that your parents are worrying about you.' He took my advice and wrote two letters. A while later he said to us: 'I'm going to leave you. I will eat dinner with my folks to-morrow in Golden, Col.' Well dressed and feeling good, with $250 in his pocket, he bade us good-by. We soon received a letter from his mother, thanking us for what we had done for her son."

When the men who have accumulated much land in the wheat country die and divide their holdings, the land will be in smaller tracts and so thickly settled that the local market will supply all the labor needed in the harvest. That will mark the end of the summer migration.

Swimmers' Cramp.

In drowning accidents where expert swimmers suddenly lose all control of their powers, the usual explanation of cramps is beginning to be looked upon as insufficient. It has been noticed that persons having disease of the middle ear, who have already shown symptoms of vertigo, are especially liable to such accidents, and as the semicircular canals are the organs of direction, it is suggested that even a slight hemorrhage in this delicate structure from a blow by the waves would result in utter helplessness. Persons with ears not perfectly sound are therefore warned against swimming in rough water.

Carried with You.

Joy is a prize unbought, and it floats, purest in its flow when it comes unthought. No getting into heaven, as a place, will compass it. You must carry it with you, else it is not there. You must have it in you, as the music of a well-ordered soul, the fire of a holy purpose, the willing up out of the central depths of eternal springs that like the wings of a dove, descend upon the world.

WELL HALF A MILE DEEP.

Drillings Fail to Find Desired Artesian Flow in Ohio State-house Yard.

In 1857, for some reason, it was thought profitable and possible to secure an artesian well in the state-house yard. The geology of Ohio as a science was still unwritten. In fact, the first volume of the Ohio geological reports contains the written record of this boring.

Down 2,775 feet—over half a mile—the auger was sent by the slow and laborious process of the time, and nearly a year was spent in the work. The boring was commenced on November 4, 1857, and stopped October 1, 1858. No artesian water was found.

The boring was made in the eastern part of the grounds. Its site was pointed out to the writer some years ago, and it is now probably covered by the cement walk extending out to Third street from the judiciary building. Water was struck and plenty of it—fresh, salt, sulphur, magnesium, etc., but none of it came to the top.

Prof. Theodore G. Wormley, the professor of chemistry in Starling medical college, embraced the opportunity to secure the temperature of this deep boring. With a thermometer placed in a specially prepared iron case and left in the bottom of the boring 24 hours, he found the temperature at the bottom to be 83 degrees Fahrenheit. Making deductions for the distance below the surface at which the heat of the sun ceases to be felt, he computes that the temperature increased one degree for every 71 feet of descent. At that time European scientists who were carefully studying this branch of physical geography had estimated that the temperature increased in such conditions one degree for every 66 feet.

There is no record of the cost of the boring, but it must have been considerable, as the facilities and apparatus were primitive compared with those now in use. Though failing of its principal purpose, the state seems to have turned it to account through its geologists, so that it was not wholly money wasted.

PECAN SHELLING SEASON.

An Industry That Gives Employment to Many Hundreds of People.

Some idea of the magnitude of the pecan nut meat industry may be had when it is stated that in San Antonio (Tex.) alone there are 1,700 members of the Pecan Shellers' union, a labor organization composed of men engaged as a regular business in the shelling of pecan nuts and extracting the delicious kernels.

Not all of the pecan shellers in San Antonio belong to the union. There are several hundred other men, women and children in that city who gain a livelihood from the work. There are branches of the Pecan Shellers' union in Austin and several other towns of the state.

The pecan nut shelling season lasts from October 1 to July 1. The new crop of nuts begin to come into market about October 1, and from then until January 1 the business of extracting the kernels is very active. The kernels are shipped in large bulk to New York, St. Louis and other cities, where they are used by the confectioners in the manufacture of candies.

Pecan shelling is a comparatively new industry. It had its origin, so far as its becoming a recognized business is concerned, a few years ago when a candy manufacturer of New York visited Texas.

He ate some of the candy made and sold by Mexican street vendors in San Antonio. Pecan kernels form an important ingredient of this candy. As an experiment he arranged for a small shipment of the pecan meats to be made to him.

The kernels were received in due time, and the highest art of the candy maker was employed in their use. The pecan candy became popular almost instantly, and other orders for the pecan kernels were placed.

That was the beginning of an industry which now gives employment to several thousand people. There is a big demand for the pecan kernels in every large city in the country.

Indians Going to School.

The Indians of western Nevada are taking more kindly to the government school than ever before. At present there are 260 students and no more can be received until new buildings under way are completed. It was only a few weeks ago that the government ordered the installation of a school at old Fort McDowell, in Humboldt county, to relieve the congestion in the Carson school.

She Had Recovered.

Mrs. Ferguson (to caller)—I never did like her, and when the accident happened to me the way she did I was speechless with indignation. I couldn't say a word.

Mr. Ferguson (butting in)—That must have happened before we were married.—TH-Bits.

THE UNLUCKY CZAR.

MISHAPS WHICH HAVE MARKED HIS REIGN.

Thousands of Poor Subjects Crushed to Death on Day of Coronation—May a Fateful Month.

It has been suggested that Nicholas II, czar of all the Russias, is the unluckiest of living men. One would have no difficulty in showing at least that the czar has had more mishaps than any other monarch on a throne.

His first mishap was that which prophetically came to him in Japan. He was touring Europe and Asia in 1891 with Prince George of Greece. At Omu, Japan, although he had had splendid entertainment from the mikado, there was a feeling antagonistic to Russia, and a Japanese drew a sword to kill him, when Prince George thrust it aside.

But what he was preserved for was to turn later the first rod of the Siberian railway at the eastern end; and for the dignity—which he in no measure desired, but shrank from—of the crown which came to him soon after by reason of the death of his father, Alexander III, at Livadia.

This attack occurred in May—a month eventful to Nicholas II. It was in May that he was born, 37 years ago. He did not wait at 35 to rule the destiny of 130,000,000 people. He had always detested official life and the homage of courtiers. But the duties and responsibilities of autocracy fall upon him.

He began badly. On the occasion of his coronation thousands of his poorer subjects were crushed to death on Khodynskoi Plain. On that plain came what many regarded as the fatal evidence of the ill luck which pursues and makes his life woe. Just before his accession he had become betrothed to the Princess Alix of Hesse. This, too, was outside his reckoning. Gossip had it that he didn't want to marry a German princess and that the Princess Helene d'Orleans, daughter of the Comte de Paris, was very much admired by him.

Ill luck seemed to pursue him in his married life. For a time it seemed as though his wife would bear him nothing but daughters and no heir to the throne. In 1895 she gave birth to the girl christened Olga; two years after to the one named Tatiana; two years later to Marie, then in 1901 to Anastasia.

Meantime the czar and the people and the carina herself were disappointed. In August last year the carina bore another child—and it was a boy. So his luck in this respect may be said to have turned.

However much a liberal at heart, the best accounts agree that the czar took up his inherited authority first with distaste, and then with the firm purpose of continuing his father's policies. He kept his father's counselors, and declared he would uphold the principle of autocracy.

His ill luck interfered here, too. Pobledonostoff was obliged to retire. Muraviev was taken from him by sudden death. M. de Plehve, his baleful minister of the interior, a Muscovite grand vizier, was destroyed by a bomb. His best beloved uncle, the Grand Duke Sergei, was blown to pieces by a bomb. His governor of Finland was struck down.

Death has threatened his own person many times. In Italy, in 1903, a man named Goertz was apprehended in time to spoil a plot of assassination. An anarchist obtained admission to a state reception at the palace of Tsarke-Selo in the uniform of a superior officer of the gendarmerie and was discovered, with bombs in his pockets, just in time. A girl student, Mile. Merezhevsky, was frustrated in an attempt to kill him at the spring review in 1904.

When, last January, with his court the czar was ending the ceremony of blessing the water of the river Neva, a shrapnel from a battery which was firing a salute exploded near the royal pavilion, killing one man and wounding others.

He completed the Siberian railway, as his father desired, in order to consolidate Russian power in Asia and extend the Russian trade, industry and commerce. But this railway was one of the causes that brought about the unlucky war with Japan.

The ineffectiveness of his numerous reforms and attempts at conciliation—annulments of peasants' indebtedness, openings of altars of the Old Faith to undisturbed worship, decrees of religious freedom to all, concessions to the Jews, abolition of flogging and Siberian exile—the failure of these benevolent pacific country might well be ascribed to the sinister element which seems to inhere in all his undertakings.

Then there are all the disasters of the war with Japan and the massacres in various parts of the empire to be considered in an account of the misadventures that have attended his reign.

Seoul, July 1, via Tokio, July 3.—Protestant Christianity in Korea has increased over 60 per cent in the past year, and there is promise of a national evangelization under the auspices of the American missionaries. ### GRAND JURY FAILS TO INDICT HENRY BECKER.

New York, July 3.—After a week's investigation, the Queens County Grand Jury has refused to indict Henry Becker for the murder of 15-year-old Amelia Staffeldt of Flushing. The Grand Jury, it is stated, believed that Becker was scared into making the confession.

FOR AND ABOUT WOMEN

Simple Lotions to Curl Hair.

Summer is an especially hard season for women whose hair is moist and heavy, for to make it look well seems almost impossible. Recently I spoke of daily airings and sunnings as doing much to correct this condition, but besides this treatment those certain kinds of shampoo will be a help when the time of washing rolls around. Added to these there are a couple of dry applications that sometimes affect moist hair so favorably as to do far more toward waving it than tongs can accomplish, so it is quite possible that the tresses will not look "slick," but as soft as a woman's whose hair has natural fluffiness if not curl.

In case one does not know it, the fact that soda is drying, and, therefore, sometimes good to put in the shampooing water, should be remembered by heavy-haired women, but one who has the least dryness in her scalp should let it alone, for the effect will be injurious. Ammonia, too, will act in the same way.

Better than either of these is a preparation made of a pint of bay rum, a gill of alcohol, a gill of water, a quarter of an ounce of tincture of cantharides, an eighth of an ounce of carbonate of ammonia and a quarter of an ounce of carbonate of potash. The water should be used for dissolving the carbonates, and during this time the other ingredients should be put together. Then mix the two combinations, shaking well.

This is not only cleansing, but a tonic, and absorbing to moisture. It should be used by wetting the scalp thoroughly and rubbing, then allowing it to dry in. Afterward wash in clear water.

Another lotion for the same purpose is made of two ounces of lavender, a quarter of an ounce of borax and one and one-half ounces of rose water. Use as directed for the other.

Neither of these should be put on the scalp oftener than once in three weeks. Applications that may dry the hair in the way it is placed, so that if laid in waves the effect will be obtained, will be effective on certain qualities of hair. Again I must say, however, that these are not only useless on hair already dry in texture, but will be absolutely harmful in that they are more drying.

The method includes either tea, rosemary water or aromatic vinegar. In any one of these twelve grains of carbonate of potash should be dissolved to the proportion of half a pint. The hair is brushed and made ready for dressing, then is gone over lightly, but thoroughly, with a brush wet in one of these liquids. The coiffure is then loosely made, the hair laid in waves about the face. Over this there should be tied a thin face veil, taking care that the waves are still formed. The veil helps to preserve them and when the hair is dried the veil is removed and the hair lightly gone over with a comb.

A woman whose hair is so moist as to preclude possibility of waves may still get a fluffy effect by using carbonate of potash in the shampooing water. It should be dissolved in the first rinsing water, about ten grains to a basinful. Shaking the hair frequently while drying increases the possibility of fluffiness, especially if done before an open window through which the wind is blowing.

Women Everywhere.

It is estimated that 3,000 marriages are performed daily throughout the world.

The chances of sudden death are greater among men than women in the ratio of 1 to 8.

Women composers of Christiania and Bergen, Norway, are to be paid the same rates as men after five years of apprenticeship and passing a test of full qualification.

The average American is blase almost before the English girl is ready to leave her school, says a writer. The English girl never leaves her governess and home before she is 18, while at the same age the American girl has seen much of the world. Yet the American girl retains her vivacity and her interest in everything. It is that one quality, I think, above all others, that wins for her the admiration of the English woman. The American woman never looks to her husband as master, while the English woman is taught to do so from birth.

Comfortless Furnishing.

Rooms are furnished nowadays with a view to effect rather than to comfort. Furniture is charming, never has better taste been displayed, generally speaking, in furnishing. And yet it is rare, when one comes to think of it, that one goes into a really cozy, "comfy" room, where the average woman looks thoroughly at home and one feels at once rested in both mind and body.—Lady's Pictorial.

THE LAST FIRECRACKER.

'Tis the last red firecracker
Left lying alone;
All its former companions
Are busted and gone.
Not one of its kindred
Nor loved one is nigh
To observe its last sputter
Or hear its last sigh.

It lies on the sidewalk
(But none takes it up—
Little Willie has wandered
Down town with the pup
To inquire of the doctor
If dogs grow new tails,
For a bunch of firecrackers
Filled puppy with wails.

Uncle Thomas is resting
Up stairs on a cot—
He must lay on his stomach,
His back is so hot;
Poor old grandpa is moaning
In gizzled despair
For a wayward sky rocket
Took his beard and hair.

Papa has his head bandaged
In coverings neat,
And a surgeon is fixing
The burns on his feet;
Mamma thinks she'll recover
The use of her arms,
Though the red fire that burned
Them
Caused eight fire alarms.

'Tis the last red firecracker
Where it was flung down
Ere the mantle of silence
Fell over the town;
There's no one to explode it;
It lies where it fell
And must wait for ignition
Till some one gets well.

JAPS GETTING INTO COUNTRY

BUYING TICKETS TO CANADA.
DROP OFF WHILE PASSING THROUGH U. S.

Immigrants flocking to Mexican border to slip into the country.

Mexico City, July 5.—Two hundred and seventy-five Japanese landed at Salina Cruz yesterday. These Japanese like most of the others that land in this country, are headed for the coal miners in the district of Las Esperanzas. This is one of the smallest bunches of immigrants that has yet been brought over.

Joseph Y. Strand, a Chinese immigration inspector stationed at El Paso, who arrived in this city today, stated that Japanese are flocking to the border in great numbers and buying tickets from Juarez through to Canada, in order to enter the United States in violation of the recent provision of the immigration department, which closed the border to these immigrants.

Under the present regulation all the Japanese have to do is to make declaration that they are going through to Canada and they are permitted to enter. Mr. Strand declares that reports from the Canadian border show that the immigrants are not arriving in that country, and that they drop off at convenient points in the United States.

It is said that many men headed for the coal fields of Mexico make the border their real destination.

MONUMENT TO STUDENTS

Of Yale Who Opposed the British Troops 128 Years Ago.

New Haven, Conn., July 5.—One hundred and twenty-eight years ago today, on July 5, 1779, a small body of beardless Yale students marched bravely out to the edge of the town and gave battle to the British veterans who had come to take New Haven. Today a monument commemorating the heroism of the youthful students was placed on the spot at West Bridge, where the British were repulsed.

The monument cost $30,000 and was designed by James Edward Kelly of New York. The monument consists of three bronze figures of heroic size and dressed in the costume of the college boys of colonial times. They are seen operating a piece of field artillery and the whole is mounted on a pedestal of granite suitably inscribed.

The conflict which the memorial commemorates was one of the stirring incidents of the American revolution. The British had planned to cause Washington to weaken his forces at West Point in order to defend the Connecticut coast. New Haven, then a town of 1,800 inhabitants was to be the object of the British attack. President Stiles, from the steeple of Yale college saw the British fleet preparing to sail from West Haven, and called out the students for the defense of the town.

Under General Garth the British forced a landing, hotly opposed by the Yale boys and the patriots, and proceeded to plunder and destroy. A pitched battle was fought at the north west corner of Broadway, and the defenders were eventually overwhelmed by superior numbers. Meanwhile the British had landed 1,500 men at Lighthouse Point, and advanced from the East, with the intention of forming a junction with those in the town and crushing all opposition, while Sir George Collier bombarded the town from the warships in the harbor.

By this time, however, the entire countryside was aroused, and the patriots gathered in such numbers that the British withdrew and burned Fairfield. The heroic students of Yale were therefore left in possession of the college town.

FOUND BODY IN ROOM; AND THEN FLED.

New York July 5.—Inspector McCafferty, head of the detective bureau, last night received a cablegram from Consul General Skinner at Marseilles, France, that Sargis Sakarain, alias Farkain, who was arrested recently in Marseilles on a charge of having been implicated in the death of Father Kasper Vartarin has made a partial confession. The cablegram states that Sakarain has admitted he found the body in his room and that he fled, fearing that he would be implicated in the crime.

BASEBALL.

Freddie Parent is playing a great game for the Boston Americans. Indianapolis fans have a breacher organization called the Kind Word club. The object is to put a stop to knocking and to toss kind words to the home players—when they win.

"Bugs" Raymond, who has been signed by the St. Louis Nationals, tried to stop an electric fan with his ungloved hand the other day and came very near having his pitching arm put out of business permanently.

Five hits one day and twenty hits the next is the way the New York Highlanders have been batting.

Joe Kelly and his "Canucks" have set the Toronto baseball world crazy. Great thing for "Sir Joseph" to head a winner his first year in the Eastern league.

"What do you think of those Bostonians?" has been asked more than once during the past month.

Manager Lajoie has his Cleveland team keeping great step and it looks like a hard struggle for the White Sox the remainder of the season.

The Cincinnati team has been playing fine ball of late, and a good many fans believe the Reds will get into the first division before the close of the season.

Manager McGuire of the Boston Americans should get Jimmy Barrett a cap to fit him. Jim ripped his cap in the back in order to make it stay on his head.

Pitchers Lindman and Linderman are both members of the Boston Nationals.

The Brooklyn team as well as the Giants put an awful crimp in the Philadelphia team's pennant aspirations.

Hal Chase has slumped somewhat in his work with the other highlanders.

Neither St. Louis team has played as good ball this season as last.

New York fans fear that the great Mathewson is becoming an "in and out." In one game Matty shows himself the old-time wonder and in the next he is batted out of the box.

The Tigers are making quite a bid for the pennant, but very few fans think Jennings' team will arrive at the top in time to hoist the flag.

A St. Louis uniform is very becoming to Bill Dineen and all that is necessary is for Bill to win a few games to make his stay in the Mound City a happy affair.

Camphor Tree Experiments in the United States.

Secretary James Wilson, of the department of agriculture, in a recent address delivered before the American club of Pittsburg, declared that the United States was successfully experimenting in the production of camphor.

He said, in part: "For years the department has been distributing camphor tree seed and thousands of trees are now growing throughout the South and in the Pacific coast states.

Two years ago a serious effort was made to develop the manufacture of camphor from these trees. By improvements in manufacturing processes satisfactory results have been accomplished and a large manufacturing concern is now building up a camphor grove of 2,000 acres in Florida, from which it hopes to make camphor. This firm uses more than $500,000 worth of camphor every year."

A Japanese newspaper states that the Tokyo government has on foot a project for the extensive planting of forests of camphor trees. The demand for camphor increases, having now reached over 10,500,000 pounds annually, and it will not be long until it reaches 13,000,000 pounds, says a Japanese authority.

Omaha Line Reduces Rates.

Lincoln, Neb., July 5.—In accordance with the requirements of the new maximum freight rate law the Minneapolis and Omaha railroad today put into effect its new schedule of freight rates for Nebraska, reducing all tariffs 15 per cent. The rates are also made to apply to and from Sioux City, Council Bluffs and the Missouri Valley in Iowa.

Practice Coast Defense.

Charleston, S. C., July 5.—During the ten days beginning today Fort Moultrie and vicinity is to be the scene of the most notable army maneuvers held in this part of the country in a long time. The participants will include, in addition to the coast artillery of the United States army, practically the entire body of the state militia of South Carolina and several companies of the National Guard of Alabama.

DISPLAY DRILL NOT POLITICS

TWENTY MEN OF WAR ARE TO SAIL AROUND THE HORN TO THE PACIFIC.

False Impressions Abroad Concerning Movement Which Is Simply Continuance of Routine.

Oakland, Cal., July 5.—Secretary of the Navy Metcalf, in an interview today, confirmed the report that a large part of the United States navy will be seen in Pacific waters next winter. Eighteen or twenty of the largest men of war will come around Cape Horn on a practice cruise and will be seen in San Francisco harbor.

"Many false impressions have gained circulation about the proposed movement of this part of the United States navy," said Secretary Metcalf. "I have held all along that there was practically no significance to this movement from a military standpoint. I might have stated before I left Washington exactly what I am saying now. I thought as the news concerned the people of the Pacific coast today would be an appropriate time to announce the exact plans.

"It is the policy of the navy department at the present time to keep the fleet in American waters as much as possible. It is also our policy, as has been stated, to keep as large a number of battleships together as possible. We might as well spend the money that is devoted to our navy in American ports as abroad. We have sent squadrons to various European nations in the past with less advantage than by keeping them at home.

"I have planned this cruise around the Horn for the practice of the squadron. How long they will spend in these waters I cannot say at present. I can promise the people of Oakland and San Francisco that they will see one of the finest naval spectacles ever witnessed in Pacific waters.

"I hope the talk of Japanese troubles and of international differences may be dropped by all of the newspapers of the country. There is nothing to produce any such feeling except this talk of the newspapers. It is without foundation. The story that Ambassador Aoki is in disfavor with his own government, I believe purely an invention. I know of no reason at the present time why Japan and the United States should not be on the friendliest terms."

Only Naval Maneuvers.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 5.—The basis of the report that a fleet of sixteen American battleships was to be sent to the Pacific is probably explained in an official statement made public at the executive offices here today.

While not expressly stated, it is intimated that the battleships may go to the Pacific coast in the near future, but if they do, it will be in furtherance only of a plan of routine naval maneuvers. Moreover, it is added that the matter is destination is undetermined and the fleet is quite as likely to be ordered to the Mediterranean or the South Atlantic as to the Pacific.

In any event, the statement emphasizes that no political significance is to be attached to the trip; and it is further made clear that the inference that friction between individual citizens of this country and natives of Japan has influenced the government in the disposition of its fighting sea force, is not justified.

It is the policy of the navy department to get the battleships together occasionally for an extended cruise. Arrangements for such a cruise are now under way. They may or may not mature by the coming winter.

The official statement as given out by Secretary Loeb follows:

"There is no intention of sending a fleet at once to the Pacific. For the last two years, the administration has been perfecting its plans to arrange for a long ocean cruise of the battleships when a sufficient number of warships are gathered together. This cruise may be to the Pacific, but might possibly be only to the Mediterranean or the South Atlantic. It may possible take place next winter, but on the other hand it may not be convenient to arrange for it until later. In any event after a few months the fleet will be brought back together to the Atlantic Coast.

"Whether the voyage is made, whether the fleet stays in the Atlantic or goes to the Pacific, will be determined simply as a matter of routine in the management and drill of the navy. It is now part of the settled policy of the navy department in its effort to keep the navy up to the highest point of efficiency, always to keep the battleships together, maneuvering as a fleet composed of several squadrons and it is desirable that this fleet should from time to time take a long voyage.

"The relations between the United States and all other powers were more peaceful and friendly than at the present, and if the fleet were sent to the Pacific the fact would possess no more significance than the further fact that three or four months later, it would be withdrawn from the Pacific. Both would merely be part of the ordinary routine of the naval administration."

EVANS ORDERED TO PREPARE FOR TRIP TO PACIFIC.

Washington, July 4.—Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, United States Navy, commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet, left Washington today for New York. He has received orders to prepare his command for a cruise to the Pacific.

The date for its departure has been set, but is not disclosed. It can be stated, however, that it will not be before November.

That the naval policy of the government has been changed along lines advocating concentration of the bulk of the fighting force in the Pacific, the only probable zone of trouble, is now accepted as a fact in naval circles.

At the same time there are strong influences within the navy which doubt the wisdom of the transfer of the Atlantic fleet to the Pacific, and some officers who feel this way predict that although the policy now does contemplate the change, it will be reversed before the time comes for the great armada to get under way.

Missouri Gideons Meet.

Carthage, Mo., July 5.—All Missourians who belong to "Gideon's Band" are gathering here today to take part in the fifth state convention of the Gideons, or Christian traveling men. Carthage, Joplin and Webb City have joined in providing splendid entertainment for the visitors, who will be here three days. The convention will elect officers, receive reports and choose delegates to the national convention of the organization, which is to be held two weeks hence at Toledo, Ohio. Interspersed with the regular business will be addresses by several noted evangelists and lay speakers.

Humane Bullets.

(Atlanta Journal.)

The French at Agincourt are said to have remarked with a fine courtesy, "Monsters, the English, fire first."

Which was very exquisite breeding on the part of the gentlemen of the one part who had come out to kill the gentlemen of the other part.

And the Hague tribunal has raised an issue which seems but little less absurd. It is rumored that the Spitz bullet, which has been adopted by Great Britain, France and Austria, is calculated to kill people when it is fired from a gun and penetrates a vital part, so this has thrown the peace congress into convulsions. What they want, apparently, is some kind of projectile which will make the enemy sneeze, or at worst will chloroform him when it hits him. Under the rules and regulations which would prevail if the peace conference had its way a detachment of police officers would have to go along with the army wherever it went to war in order to keep the peace and keep any of the deadly missiles from hurting somebody.

Our own war office frankly acknowledges that it is at sea. Speaking more seriously, the Spitz bullet, while it has more force behind it and consequently a lower trajectory, so as to make it more certain of nipping the enemy, is less painful, as one might say, than the dreaded "dum-dum" bullet which gained such fame during the South African war. The "dum-dum" expanded after it entered the body of the victim and made a wound which was decidedly ugly. The Spitz has a sharp point, and while it is calculated and designed to hit a greater number of people, the wounds are not necessarily so fatal and certainly are not as painful as the "dum-dum" or a great many other bullets with which the authorities are familiar.

So it is impossible to see just what the Hague conference is driving at. The effort to make death and extermination humane brings us to some very absurd conclusions.

FIREMAN CRUSHED UNDER OWN TRAIN.

W. G. Hahn Knocked From Engine By Block Signal Pole in East Louisville.

Louisville, July 5.—Thirty-two freight cars mutilated the body of W. G. Hahn, twenty-one years old, a native of Deatsville, Ky., and for eight months a fireman on a switch engine in the Louisville and Nashville yards at East Louisville about 5 o'clock yesterday morning at Floyd and Fulton streets, where a trestle rises from the ground. The body was removed to Lee Cralle's undertaking establishment at Sixth and Chestnut streets, whence it will be removed to his home at 8:20 o'clock this morning.

Just how Hahn fell to the tracks from his engine is not known, for his engineer, John Ahern, had not missed him until a brakeman came over the cut of cars and remarked that Hahn was missing. About one minute later an engineer on a Big Four engine discovered his body strewn along the track for several yards, and some of his clothing was ground up under the heavy trucks of many of the cars.

"Confound Such a Pen"

It spurts and catches, blots and scratches.

It's simply no good, that's all.

Hundreds of users say this about the ordinary steel pens. If they would use our No. 97 Hunt pens, with the rounded point, one trial would convince them that these pens are the "BEST IN THE WORLD." A special offer, until September 1st: "Buy a box (12 dozen) for 50c. Give them a trial—use a dozen, or two dozen of them, and if you are not satisfied bring back what you have left of them and exchange them for a FULL BOX of any other kind of
pen. ISN'T THIS FAIR TO YOU?"
